

Race Matters for Juvenile Justice

Community Presentation Series 2016-2017

Our Mission is to build a collaboration of community stakeholders who will bring their constituencies to the table and partner in the Court's effort to reduce disproportionality & disparities.

National & Community Partners

National Council of Juvenile & Family Court Judges
Casey Family Programs
N.C. Administrative Office of the Courts, Court Improvement Project
Racial Equity Institute
Juvenile Court Judges, 26th Judicial District
Mecklenburg County Clerk of Superior Court
Mecklenburg County District Attorney's Office
Charlotte-Mecklenburg Police Department
Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools
Mecklenburg County Department of Social Services
Mecklenburg County Criminal Justice Services
Family Court Administrator's Office, 26th Judicial District
Guardian ad Litem Program, 26th Judicial District
N.C. Division of Juvenile Justice
Charlotte-Mecklenburg Community Relations Committee
Community Building Initiative
Council for Children's Rights
Justice Initiatives
ForeSight Leadership Training Institute
The Possibility Project-Charlotte
UNC Charlotte -School of Social Work

www.rmjj.org

Join us for a community presentation featuring
Race Matters for Juvenile Justice (RMJJ)

School to Prison Pipeline

Wednesday, March 15, 2017

6:00 – 8:00 p.m.

McClintock Middle School
1925 Rama Rd, Charlotte, NC 28212

What is the school-to-prison pipeline? What factors contribute to the STPP? This community presentation examines the overrepresentation of children of color in school disciplinary actions including suspensions using national and local data. Ways to reduce the pathway between schools and the juvenile justice system will be explored.

Speakers from RMJJ will include Judge Elizabeth Trosch, C. Renee Little, Dr. Susan McCarter, and CMPD Deputy Chief Vicki Foster.

Race Matters for Juvenile Justice (RMJJ) is a collaborative leadership group working within our community to reduce disproportionality and disparate outcomes for children and families of color through institutional organizing, education, and workforce development.

This event is free and all are welcomed!